Benjamin is the artist and songwriter from Stockholm, who most recently represented Sweden in the Eurovision Song Contest 2018 with his first single this year - 'Dance You Off'. The song quickly became #1 both on Spotify and the Swedish top-chart and entered several top 10 lists all over the world. The single went platinum a short time after its release and in total Benjamin has over 67 million streams on Spotify.

Benjamin is now on the last leg of finishing his album and he has been traveling back and forth to LA, working with renowned hitmakers such as Fernando Garibay (Lady Gaga, Sia), OMEGA (Jason Derulo, Daya) Jake Torrey (Chainsmokers, Galantis) och Andrew Dawson (Kanye West, Borns). Benjamin's latest single 'I Wouldn't Know' is written by himself, OMEGA and Jake Torrey. 'I Wouldn't Know' was featured on several New Music Friday lists all over the world and playlists such as 'Singled out', 'Hits Today' and 'Swag'.

While preparing for his anticipated debut album which will be released at the end of September, Benjamin also released a feature with Ofenbach called 'Paradise'. Now, with a mix of everything from modern pop to retro 70's vibes Benjamin is demonstrating his versatility both as a songwriter and an artist with his up and coming album and a Swedish tour with 25 stops during the fall of 2018.

He's the hair-raised hunk who hee-dobbed his way to a top ten finish for Sweden at Eurovision 2018. But where some acts see Eurovision as the end of the race, Benjamin Ingrosso was just getting started.

In the few months since Lisbon he's released a Gold-certified Swedish single, announced a 25-date tour of Sweden and clocked up 61 million streams on Spotify.

BENJAMIN INGROSSO, 'I WOULDN'T KNOW' | TRACK REVIEW

Aug 1, 2018 · Posted by the musical hype · Music, Reviews, Singles & Tracks

Swedish pop singer/songwriter Benjamin Ingrosso shines on "I Wouldn't Know," where he's totally fed up with a 'one-sided relationship.'

"Why're you so damn hard to talk to / That's not the way it's supposed to be." Uh oh, Benjamin Ingrosso – trouble in paradise? Yes, the Swedish singer/songwriter is having some relationship issues. What better way to atone than to share the plight of love with the whole world? He does just that on single "I Wouldn't Know," keeping it 100' you might say.

"Signed to TEN (the home of Zara Larsson and Icona Pop), Benjamin Ingrosso is shaping up to be quite the pop star. He recently represented Sweden at Eurovision, landing a European hit with "Dance You Off." The 20-year-old now backs it up with the pleasingly sarcastic "I Wouldn't Know," which is easily his best song to date." - Idolator

Exclusive Interview: Benjamin Ingrosso On New Single "I Wouldn't Know", Eurovision & Sweden Slaying Pop

He finished in the Top 10 at the Eurovision Song Contest this year representing Sweden with his seductive bop "Dance You Off" (over 20 million plays on Spotify and counting!), he's signed to the label that launched the careers of Icona Pop (HELLO!) and Zara Larsson (HELLOOOOOO!), and he just released a brand new single called "I Wouldn't Know" (a mid-tempo where he shows a more vulnerable side). Of course we're talking about rising Swedish pop singer Benjamin Ingrosso!

Ofenbach Release New Single "Paradise" Feat. Benjamin Ingrosso

French house duo Ofenbach, which consists of Dorian Lo and César de Rummel, have revealed their latest single "Paradise" out now on Warner Bros. The new single is a vintage-sounding single driven by electro-rock elements and influenced from their summer filled trip to Los Angeles.

If, like us, you were huge fans of Ofenbach's 'Katchi' from last year, then you'll be very pleased to learn that they've kept that quite frankly inimitable sound and style on 'Paradise'. A ridicumazing bop of ludicrous proportions. And this time, with added Benjamin Ingrosso to enhance the experience even further. - Scandipop
